Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

"Young women have gone to the war with their husbands," says a United Press dispatch from Addis Ababa. It is not a new thing. The Crusaders were accompanied often by their wives, and families. Savage peoples have always gone to war en masse. Many European armies in the world war had their camp followers of women behind the lines. Those who go to war with their men have the best of it, probably. Those who stay at home and care for the children, and die by slow starvation and horrible dread, are more to be pitied than those who march shoulder to shoulder with their men to share whatever fate the lord of battles decrees.

In an optimistic radio address Friday night President Roosevelt called on the people again to resume as much as possible of the burdens of private charity, which for two years his administration has ligthtened.

The President's appeal is for community resumption of its care of the aged, and those whose infirmities prevent their fending for themselves. We are not acquainted with conditions throughout the country, but can say confidently that Nevada County has never shirked these duties during the depression. The burden of caring for the sick and aged has been heavier and more costly locally, during the two years of magnificent spending for the unemployed, than ever before.

Really the greatest problem facing the administration and the country today, is weeding out the great army of grafters from those who are deserving of work relief. An attempt is being made along those lines, however. In Los Angeles, for instance, 500 Mexican families on relief have been denied further aid, and shifted to the cotton fields of the lower San Joaquin valley. The relief administratinn is trying to force into agricultural for the time being some thousands that prefer the small monthly Treasury check to a somewhat larger check which entails no labor of any kind.

Republicans vigorously exhorted by Herbert Hoover are stirring from their long coma. In this county an enterprising lawyer is building a Republican Assembly. As "Time" remarks: "There are not enough democrats in this country to elect a president." A Democrat is elected only when Republicans become dissatisfied with their own administration. If the memory of the average voter had any influence in any election, Republicans should remember that, a Democrat, Woodrow Wilson, reelected on a pledge to keep us out of the world war, finally let us into it, with its attendant billions of repudiated European debts, and a Democrat, Franklin Roosevelt, elected on a pledge to take us out of the post-war depression that Wilson helped make, has plunged us still further into debt in the attempt, and unemployment, to all practical purposes is still unrelieved.

True, the country is slowly coming back to something like normal, but it is very difficult to appraise how much the Roosevelt administration has had to do with it. If the country is recovering prosperity because of the billions spent for relief, much of it of the make-belief variety, then what will happen to us when the prop is withdrawn? If the country, on the other hand, is recovering because general world conditions are auspicious and confidence of employers and busness leaders is being restored, most of the billions spent have been wasted. But here we deal with public opinion rather ascertainable facts.

What is needed at the moment is a canvass of public openion, a thorough canvass such as Great Britain held recently on the matter of peace the League of Nations. The time will come, we believe, when any administration in Washington will be glad to submit its policies to a nation wide expression of opinion, much in the manner of pre-election canvasses made by the Literary Digest. A Democracy, above all other governments should be guided in its policies by public opinion. A four years interval, at the end of which the people march to the polls and register their commendation or condemnation of the administration in power, is not frequent enough in these fast changing times.

CITY STREETS ARE IMPROVED

City Superintendent of Streets H. H. Hallett stated today that Pine street from Gault bridge to the junction of Spring street is to be widened four feet. A culvert was put in today and the pavement will be laid tomorrow.

The street crew raised the pavement a foot at the Bank of America corner in the last few days, making a better crossing for pedestrians.

Clay street, on Prospect Hill is rocked and after the rains it will be graded. This street will be paved early next spring.

The rock crossing at the foot of Winter street near the Court House corner, is to be removed and Winter street is to be put in shape for spring paving.

Plans call for cutting the grade on Main street in front of the Grimes home to a depth of three feet to give a better approach to Alexander street. A fill is to be made from Alexander street to Main in order to make a better approach.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC NOW NAMES FREIGHT TRAIN

The "freight train with a name" is the latest addition to the Southern Pacific family!

Christened the "Overnight," in honor of its running time, and announced as the "fastest freight train in the west," a new merchandise carrier has been placed in service between San Francisco bay cities and Los Angeles.

Here to fore, it is pointed out, the railroad has given names to passenger trains only. But the fast merchandise carrier was deemed worthy of more than a number, and so it was officially christened when it made its appearance October 22.

Southern Pacific is considering like procedure in connection with other freight trains, and lo! after all these years the hard-working, ever-faithful, but, until now, unsung freight carriers may soon be called by name instead of just "hey there!"

RESOURCES OF NEVADA COUNTY ARE DESCRIBED

In a series of articles on California counties, telling how they came by their names, and giving a description of their resources, issued by the California News Bureau, appears the following account of Nevada County:

Nevada county was created April 25, 1851. The word "Nevada" in Spanish means "snowy." The county derived its name from the perpetual snow-capped mountains within its boundaries.

This county has given to the world $300,000,000 in gold and produces oranges at one end and ice at the other. It is one of the state's richest counties in scenic attractions, farming, mining, and lumbering. In the western section, roses bloom the year around while at Donner Lake near its eastern boundary the annual snowfall is from ten to twenty feet. Its golden era dates from 1848. The rocker was the first machine used for washing gold, followed by the long-tom which in turn gave place to the sluice. Hydraulicking was first undertaken in 1852 and by 1876 $100,000,000 was invested in plants, equipment and property for this form of mining. In 1884 hydraulic mining was prohibited by law. Within a radius of six miles from Grass Valley are 110 mines, while within a radius of five miles from Nevada City are 120 mines with more than one-tenth of the population engaged in this industry. Here are the Empire, North Star, Idaho-Maryland, Malakoff and other famous mines.

Dry farming is successful, but most growers rely upon irrigation. More than 1,000 miles of ditches and flumes costing $4,250,00 furnish water for orchards and farms. Leading fruits are pears, apples, plums and prunes with a large harvest of oranges. Dairying and stock and poultry raising are major industries.

In the eastern section of the county is historic Donner Lake, where George and Jacob Donner with a company of emigrants were imprisoned by snow from November until February 19, 1846. Most of them perished before the first relief party from California reached them. The horrible suffering they endured is a tragic part of early California history. East of Donner Lake is Truckee, one of the state's most popular winter playgrounds. Population: 16,596. Area: 974 square miles.

PORCUPINE RETURNS HUNTER TIT FOR TAT

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 27.—While returning from the upper country a few days ago, George E. Butz, came across a large porcupine, and as the animal scrambled up the bank eight feet away, George stepped from the car and shot it with his rifle. As he did so, he received a shower of quills penetrating his left side and several in his hat. From this experience, one might believe that the animal threw the quills. Such, however is not the case, the concussion of the bullet caused these quills to fly from the body of the animal.

FOREST FIREBUG GETS STIFF JOLT

What is said by U. S. Forest Service officers to be one of the most severe sentences imposed on a forest inceldiary, considering the area burned, was recently pronounced by Federal Judge Albert L. Stephens of the Southern District Court on L. R. Littlefield of Santa Barbara, who was denied probation and ordered to serve two and a half years in a federal prison. Littlefield was convicted on a charge of setting five fires in the watershed area protected by the Santa Barbara national forest where destruction of the cover could easily result in widespread damage in the event of heavy rains. Fire fighters confined the total area burned to less than an acre. Forest Service officials were aided in the investigation by peace officers of Ventura and Santa Barbara counties and by the Bakersfield press.

STATE'S RELIEF LOAD REDUCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28—Slashing reductions in California's direct relief load, due to the thousands of persons who have found employment on newly launched WPA projects and in seasonal employment, were reflected in a $2,500,000 cut contained in the state's November application for relief funds forwarded to Washington today by the State Relief Administrator.

The application for November totaled only $5,500,000, as compared with a request for $8,000,000 for October. The latter application, however, was pared to $7,000,000 after reaching Washington, according to C. I. Schottland, assistant Relief Administrator.

In addition to the $5,500,000 for direct relief, the administration also asked for $375,000 for its transient program, a reduction of $100,000 over the October application. Another application was made for $150,000 to be spent on work projects sponsored by the State Relief administration.

WINTER CAMPS OF CCC REDUCED

California will have the smallest number of CCC camps for the winter period of 1935-36 since the corps was organized, according to the United States Forest Service headquarters in San Francisco. Usually selected as a work area for enrollees when forestry activities in other parts of the country are closed because of winter conditions, California had 163 CCC camps last winter and 150 camps the year before. Seventy five camps will handle work projects under the jurisdiction of the Department of Agriculture, 35 under the Department of the Interior and three on War Department activities.

The distribution of the winter camps under the different work agencies are: National forests 53, state forests 11, soil conservation 10. bureau of reclamation 1, military reservations 3, biological survey 1, division of grazing 3, national monuments 3, national parks 7, state parks 21.

JIM MINE

About twelve men are employed at the Jim Mine near Graniteville. The 20-ton daily capacity mill is treating ore about ten hours per day on ore mined from the property. A drift, which is in 1360 feet is being driven to the old Jim ledge. In the last few days quartz formation and a lot of water, have been encountered, indicating the ledge is not far away. Charles Columbus is superintendent.

Statehood For Hawaii

(Contributed)

Let's make Hawaii a state!

The islands themselves are ready for it, even clamoring for it, if the impression brought home by Eugene B. Crowe, chairman of the congressional investigating committee, is correct.

Upon landing in San Francisco last week he said, "it is my belief the majority of all citizens in the islands feel Hawaii is ready for statehood."

All that remains before the United States shall have 49 states in its flag, then, is for Congress to approve. And why shouldn't Congress approve, come to think about it?

Instinctively, a number of people will object to the idea. They will be used to having 48 stars in the flag, and to speaking of the 48 states, and will feel that it is not right, somehow, to change things. They will hash up various unsound arguments to support this feeling, but their basic objection will rest on but one thing—opposition to change.

Hawaii was made a territory originally with the ultimate idea of matriculating into statehood. For many years it has been an orderly, popular fledgling of the United States, ever a source of pride to its parent land, both as a luxurious tropic playground and as an industrious little island that sends thousands of pounds of sugar to this country yearly.

We can expect from easterers such statements as that of Governor Curley of Massachusetts, who opposes the move on the ground that Hawaii should be "fortified and kept as an outpost against Asiatic nations." Why it couldn't be just that as a state, he did not explain. Obviously, his is but a reason born of a feeling of opposition to change.

California especially, if we are wise, will give vigorous support to the islanders, since this state as the eastern terminal of the Hawaii-United States route, has a genuine stake in the islands' destiny.

How about it? Let's make Hawaii a state!

EPWORTH LEAGUE TO GIVE FRESHMEN PARTY

A freshmen reception by the Epworth League will be given tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the form of a Hallowe'en party to be held in the parlors of the Methodist church. Having delayed the affair until a night when all interested would be able to attend, and when no conflict with high school socials would be made, the League group waited until this date to welcome the freshmen or any others of high school age or above into the fellowship of the Epworth League. The invitation is extended generally, and a fine social has been planned, complete in every respect, for tomorrow night.

Flossie Angove, presient of the local league, will have charge of the refreshments and has chosen a committee to aid her. Joan Grant fourth department vice president, will have charge of recreation and program for the evening. The decorations committee is headed by Elma Eden.

MOTION TO QUASH ATTACHMENT DENIED

Judge Raglan Tuttle of the Superior Court has handed down a decision, denying the motion of the You Bet mining company to quash a levy of attachment for $15,000 obtained by Alpha Stores Ltd., for supplies provided.

According to the opinion, it was agreed by all parties at the hearing of the motion that the only attack made upon the levy was the alleged failure o f a sheriff's deputy to leave with the occupant of the property (You Bet Mining Company) a notice that the property was attached. All other steps necessary for a valid attachment were admitted to have been taken.

These admitted steps included the service upon the You Bet mining company of a copy of the writ of attachment and description of real property, and recordation of the writ and notice of attachment.

"Assuming as the defendant contends, that the levy of the attachment was invalid" the opinion states "the Court is nevertheless of the opinion that the levy must be upheld upon the ground that defendant, by its acts and conduct subsequent to the attempted levy, has acquiesced in the levy as valid, and waived the service of the written notice of attachment was required by law."

BRUSH CREEK MINE

It is reported that the Brush Creek quartz mine southwest of Alleghany is to reopen for active work on November 10. This mine was sold by the Alpha Stores Lt of this city to Los Angeles interests in recent weeks. It has a record as a high grade producer. The mine was operated by Santa Rosa capital for some time, with Mr. Ben Ballard as manager and superintendent.

FORMER CHINESE BANK BLDG. NOW WORK SHOP

Within the last few days Robert Steger and Sons, local contractors, purchased the old Chinese bank building on Commercial street in this city from the Alpha Stores Ltd. This old brick bulding was used for many years a bank by the Chinese when hundreds of these men worked on the streams and gravel channels in this section for gold. Two sets of iron windows were used, the small front ones being pulled back and forth on little tracks. The box-like frame the outer doors stood on still stands out over the sidewalk. It is understood the building will be used by Me. Steger and sons as a work shop.

G. V. CLEANERS INSTALL BRAND NEW EQUIPMENT

E. J. Burtner, proprietor of the Grass Valley Cleaners, has just installed a large machine for cleaning clothes. This is the latest, most scientific apparatus for cleaning wearing apparel on the market. The new equipment not only cleans clothes without leaving the slightest trace of odor, but it dries them speedily, so that Burtner's establishment can now give a one day service whenever called upon.

A new cleansing liquid, non-inflammable, is used in the new process of cleaning which permits its installaton in any urban cleaning plant. Gasoline with its smells, and its explosive danger, has passed completely out of the picture. The new machine heralds a brand new, speedy system. Clothes come out of it without fading and with a lustre such as they possess when new. As an evidenve that people appreciate its advantages, Burtner states that new apparatus keeps busy throughout the day.
